	INSULIN PUMP EDUCATION This course is designed for someone new to insulin pump therapy or for someone who has an insulin pump and needs further education or updated information. Each patient is seen individually throughout pump education. The patient is instructed on the pump's functions to safely manage blood glucose levels.  GESTATIONAL OR PREGNANCY WITH DIABETES Each patient is seen individually to discuss the pathophysiology of diabetes during pregnancy, blood glucose ranges, ketone testing, and insulin instruction as needed.  ADVANCED MANAGEMENT The participant will learn how to incorporate carbohydrate ratios and correction factors (insulin adjustment principles) to allow for a more flexible lifestyle when using multiple daily injections or using an insulin pump. This teaches the patient how to effectively self-manage their diabetes.  CARBOHYDRATE COUNTING CLASS The participant will learn which foods contain carbohydrate, how they affect blood glucose and how to determine Carbohydrate ratios for better glucose control.  HEART HEALTHY CLASS The participant will learn the importance of good nutrition on blood glucose and lipid levels, goals for lipids and how to change eating habits to improve lipid levels. 	The Center for Children provides families with a central source of information and services, including: Feeding Disorders – Our unique program offers the first and only behavior-based, intensive feeding therapy program in the area. Led by Dr. Elizabeth Clawson, a multidisciplinary specialist team will assess and treat your child based on his or her individual needs. Autism Program—New therapeutic techniques for children diagnosed with autism spectrum disorders are currently being implemented to aid children and their caregivers with increasing the children's adaptive, social, academic and other identifiable skills. Resource Center—The first of its kind in the region, the Center for Children's Resource Center provides free guidance and scheduling assistance to local and regional families and their physicians. We provide comprehensive pediatric referrals and scheduling with referrals and appointments made for any Primary Care Physician and his or her patients. The Resource Center offers a parent library, parent support groups and assistance with insurance questions. Pediatric Psychology—St. Mary's Center for Children offers a full spectrum of pediatric psychological assessments and treatments for children with learning, behavioral, psychosocial and medical issues.
