

Neighbor-to-Neighbor

A breastfeeding education program from The Women's Hospital's Lactation Department

O YOU BELIEVE that breastfeeding is best for babies? Are you interested in learning more about breastfeeding so you can help educate your daughters, relatives, neighbors or church members?

The Women's Hospital's lactation nurses have created Neighbor-to-Neighbor—a breastfeeding program in which everyday women offer knowledgeable, mom-to-mom support on the topic of breastfeeding.

In this class, an international board-certified lactation consultant provides you with tools and accurate, evidence-based information to help you feel comfortable providing mom-to-mom support and education on breastfeeding.
