Contraindications for receiving the flu vaccination are the following:

- Serious allergy to eggs or previous allergic reaction to the flu vaccine
- History of Gullian-Barre Syndrome
- Receiving an oral or injected steroid within 30 days before receiving a flu vaccine
- Having a current illness with fever

A Web Inservice lesson will be assigned to all employees very soon. This lesson will provide additional information on the benefits of receiving the seasonal flu vaccine. If you still wish to decline the vaccine, you will be able to do so at the completion of this lesson.
