Bryn Thatcher, MD Class of 2025

ABOUT ME

I was born and raised in a rural Ohio town just east of Fort Wayne, Indiana. I got my bachelor's degree in Psychology at Ohio State and my master's degree in Counseling from Bowling Green State University. I became interested in medicine while working as a counselor, seeing a gap in services for my patients in physical health and medication management. I completed a post-baccalaureate program at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore to obtain my medical school prerequisite courses. I have also worked as a server at restaurants, as a substitute teacher for grades K-12, as a live-in nanny just outside of Boston, and as a State Tested Nurse Aide in a nursing home and assisted living facility!

WHY CHOOSE DEACONESS?

I am excited to be continuing my medical training in Evansville where my husband lives and works as a civil engineer in a nearby town. I was really impressed by the fun and caring people at Deaconess and am excited to be training at an unopposed program, since family medicine encompasses a little bit of everything! I am interested in rural medicine, behavioral health, addiction medicine, and social justice in addition to full-spectrum family practice.

HOBBIES/INTEREST

Outside of medicine, I like to practice yoga, be outdoors, travel, attend concerts and plays, spend time with friends and family, and read a good book or watch a good TV series. Most people that know me will tell you my favorite activity is napping. I just got a new hammock, so I am excited for that, too!
