Meet Our Family Medicine Residents

Jessica Watson, DO Class of 2025

ABOUT ME

I was born in Evansville and have spent most of my life in Henderson, Kentucky. I attended the University of Kentucky for my undergraduate and received my bachelor's degree in Biology and Neuroscience. I proceeded to receive my medical training at the University of Pikeville - Kentucky College of Osteopathic Medicine.

WHY CHOOSE DEACONESS?

During my medical training, I soon realized that there is more to practicing medicine than just medical treatment — more so that practicing medicine is built upon the foundation of trust between physicians and patients. My goal is to build relationships with every patient that I meet so that we can journey through life together, which is why I chose family medicine and why Deaconess Family Medicine Residency was the best fit for me. Through a wide scope of quality training, I will be able to establish a lasting experience with my patients and with the community that I have always been able to call my home. My special interests in family medicine include preventative medicine, pediatrics, and women's health.

HOBBIES/INTERESTS

Apart from medicine, I spend a lot of quality time with my husband, family, and friends. The hobbies I enjoy are reading, gardening, and going for walks and hikes with my golden retriever, Tucker.
