Meet Our Family Medicine Residents

Kane Ferguson, DO Class of 2029

ABOUT ME

Hello! My name is Kane Ferguson, and I originally grew up in the small town of Hornbeak, TN. Growing up in a rural area really cemented for me the importance of both outreach to medically underserved populations and community education. I believe that both of these facets are important in inspiring change in our communities.

Through my years in medical school, I realized that there are some aspects of medicine I am especially passionate about. These are community outreach, medical education, geriatrics, and palliative care.

WHY CHOOSE DEACONESS?

I am extremely excited to step into my new role as a resident physician at Deaconess Family Medicine. Ultimately, I hope to end up settling down here and raising a family. I believe this residency program is especially geared towards educating excellent Family Physicians while also allowing residents to provide care to the medically underserved.

HOBBIES/INTERESTS

Outside of medicine, I enjoy baking, barbecuing, cocktails, reading, Dungeons and Dragons, video games, guitar, and weightlifting.
